Washington, July 8 .- The failure of specting a revision of the tariff down-ward was the theme of Senator Bev-eridge as the debate on the pending bill was drawing to a close.
"Our votes," he said, "shall be east in harmony with our party's pledge as voiced by our party's leader and the nation's president."

nation's president."

Suggesting that the "insurgents" would cast their votes on the final passage of the bill in conformity with r previous action, Mr. Beveridge they would do so as a notice to conferees to bring back a bill in which there were decreased duties.

Aldrich Answers Beverläge. Mr. Beveridge was answered by Mr. Aldrich, who said he had often seen men interpret their own judgment as the judgment of their party.

"The republican party is a party of majorities," he added, "and the views of the majority in matters of legislation control party policies. The senator from Indiana does not speak for the republican party. He has no right to call here the name of the president effect of the United States in support of any suggestion which he has made."

Bill Put On its Passage.

The bill was then put on its passage. It was passed by a vote of 45 to 34.
